

DEPARTMENT OF DVL
WORLD PSORIASIS DAY PROGRAMME
(29.10.2018)

Department of Dermatology, Venereology & Leprosy, Aarupadai Veedu Medical College & Hospital had celebrated world psoriasis day in the form of awareness programme and poster competition for the second year nursing students and second year M.B.B.S students on 29th October 2018. The programme was presided by Dr. B. Kanchana, the Dean, AVMC &H and attended by former dean and nodal officer Dr. R. Maharaja, and Dr. G. Srikanthan, Professor and Head, dept of forensic medicine. All the faculty and postgraduate students of the dept. of DVL, second year Bsc. Nursing students and second year M.B.B.S students attended the programme.

The program started at 10.30am in the dermatology OPD demonstration room. The welcome address was given by Dr. P.Oudeacoumar, professor and Head, Dept. of DVL. The presidential address was delivered by Dr. B.Kanchana, the dean.

Dr. D. Preethi, junior resident, department of DVL delivered the awareness speech. She explained that psoriasis is neither a contagious nor an infectious disease. She briefed about the different types of psoriasis, its causes and its precipitating factors. She requested the students not to avoid and isolate psoriasis patients and that the disease can be easily controlled by medicines. She presented the clinical pictures of psoriasis by powerpoint presentation. This is followed by interactive session conducted by Dr.P.Oudeacoumar, Head,dept of DVL and Dr. Preethi, JR. The students actively participated in the interactive session by asking many questions. Many students took part in the poster competition by displaying their posters. Among them two posters from nursing students and two posters from second year M.B.B.S. students were selected and the prizes were distributed by the dean, AVMC & H.

The program concluded at 12.00 noon with vote of thanks given by Dr. J.Govardhan, Associate professor, Dept. of DVL.
