

Dr. T. Rajan MBBS, MS, (PhD)

Professor and Head, Department of Anatomy, VICE PRINCIPAL,

- MBBS – RMMC, Annamalai University, Annamalai Nagar
- MS (Human Anatomy) - JIPMER, Pondicherry.
- Research publications in reputed international (Gene, Endocrine Journal ,Journal of Infection, BMC infectious diseases and Andrology and Gynecology) and national journal.
- Member in editorial board of national journal of clinical anatomy and national journal of basic medical sciences.
- Chaired scientific sessions and presented papers in many national and international conferences and also received best paper for many presentation. He was awarded with MM Cooper oration award in conference organized by association of anatomist. He had held different posts to organize state and national conferences. He also organized an international conference in recent trend in genetics and medical education .
- He has guided undergraduate students for the ICMR-STS Project. Under his guidance one student presented a research topic at the international conference at Kasturba Medical College & Hospital, Manipal, Karnataka, and received young investigator award, and the abstract was published in the international journal.
- He is a research scholar in Vinayaka Mission's Research Foundation (Deemed to be university). Research topic "Anatomic variation of the extensor tendons over the dorsum of the hand: a cadaver dissection study in south indian population".
- Instrumental in starting "plastination unit" 1st in Pondicherry
- Areas of interest and research are Histology, Plastination.